Sharing what Ten10 Junior Consultants are working on

Hi all! I'm James and I joined Ten10 under Academy 29 way back in May 2023. Prior to that I was a private tutor having previously studied Biotechnology at University. Discovering how tech can be a source for good sparked my passion for technology, which prompted me to join Ten10.

Shortly after completing training, I was placed with the National Crime Agency (NCA) on a Service Desk Analyst role. I work on a 24/7 team, including night and weekend shifts, dealing with any requests and incidents that may come in from across the NCA and its partner organisations at any time of the day or night.

My team is a specialist operational service desk, dealing with corporate smartphones, VOIP devices, Wi-Fi and other more sensitive services.

A typical shift starts with a handover from my colleagues on the previous shift, updating me on any outstanding incidents or requests. Next, I action any emails which have arrived in our shared inboxes, before moving onto more complex Incidents, making sure I provide detailed updates to end users with any actions taken. As well as this, I am on call to act as First Line Support for urgent requests as well as working on side projects such as Continual Improvement initiatives.

The culture on client side is very welcoming and approachable, which makes the NCA a fun and rewarding place to work. NCA Managers are always happy to assist with any issues or concerns, plus the Academy team at Ten10 are always on hand to help!
